The strength of 3 tripods (1st house, 5th house & 9th house):

The ascendant [1st house], the fifth house [Purva Punya or accumulated Karma good or bad Karma, accrued over the past births] and the 9th house from it [fortune and luck due to good karma during the present birth but also includes some effects of Karma of the last births] are the main houses that determine what benefits one enjoys or what sufferings one faces.

These houses are linked through mutually trine positions.

The strength and disposition of these houses gives a measure of the quantum and quality of the benefits or otherwise and ideally all the three should have high strength for better results.

In your birth chart, these houses have 9.1, 6.4 and 6.66 units of strength respectively.

Thus your ascendant is high and supportive than your punya of present life and fortune or luck, you may experience that making efforts are not enough for you and you have to perform more social service or enhance your spiritual side to add fortune in life.

Planets that influence the 3 tripods and the effects that would be felt on luck:

Moon, the lord of ascendant, is placed at his friend sign Aquarius that has 25% potential to give positive results. Overall Moon is malefic for chart and will give negative result in various phases of life. Ascendant lord Moon also has opposition with second house lord sun which shows struggle within yourself and some close and very important people of your life. You can have an imbalance emotional side as well. Some sort of discomfort will be associated with parents and that can actually make you stretched between reality and desires.

Moon has sextile aspect with Saturn, Saturn which is retrograde and also not in very good position in the chart will try to help Saturn and allow you to regulate your life in favorable phases, however that will also give changes which may happen with some struggle. You can find your enemies/challenging situations forcing you to run away or find another path to get happiness. You would always try something different or start with scratch to get happiness in life.

So your ascendant which basically emotional, caring and sensitive, and has potential to give fulfilled life is in need to get right and nourishing energies (more constructive environment and positive people). Situation becomes challenging here since placement of moon is in eighth house which is more about ending and transforming energies, so most of the time real sense of stability will be missing.

Mars the lord of 5th house from ascendant, which is in neutral sign and benefic for the chart. Placement of possession and family house in the second house along with Venus conjunction gives opportunity to look for happiness in certain phases of life. This aspect has potential to keep creating hope for love and family life.

You need to express yourself in a way that makes you feel important. If you do not feel like you're contributing enough in life, you don't feel great. You can be a passionate person and stick with things once you've set your mind to them. You don't mind doing something daring as long as you have a logical reason for it. You usually have a long-term goal that you work hard at achieving in your life, and you can attract people to you who will help. You are loyal, and when betrayed, you have a hard time forgiving. You have a big heart, but also a big ego and a lot of pride that can get in the way sometimes. If you can keep that from controlling you, you can be warm and have an easy time leading people.

Thus the 5th house of PurvaPunya is not that strengthen but also doesn't have negative energies, there is always scope for you to do well in life and see some improvements in this area. Stored luck may not give you benefits but your efforts will keep creating opportunities for happiness in life. Make yourself more expressive, creative and loving, in every sense with the nature, society and people around you.

The 9th house lord is Jupiter which is benefic planet of your chart its placed in Scorpio sign and in the 5th house which is the house where you get maximum opportunity to repair the damage. 5th is also love and relationship house, having Jupiter there itself adds positive energies, some sacrifices are there however it will be beneficial for yourself in long term. Placement of Ketu in 9th house shows that you have to become more spiritual and connected with philosophical side of yours. Ketu also shows that let your past go and keep moving in all circumstances. Having higher understanding, learning and spiritual journeys will open new ways for happiness. So fortune is not always in favor unless you are so devoted to supreme, let your negativity go and new hope added in life. So because of strong lord you will be able to improve your fortune and get the right direction in life. Placement of ketu is not that good so keep doing right things in life, good for other people, and also try to improve your understanding for people more with every passing day. You can't always depend on your luck, Jupiter needs efforts and righteous activities in life to get luck in favor.
